ABOUT

The Women in Leadership 5-Week Certificate Program explores the challenges women face in leadership positions through leadership development training, networking opportunities, and input from guest speakers, and leadership influencers.

As a result of this program, attendees will be able to define their personal brand and identify goals through assessments and activities, improve their negotiation skills, increase their emotional intelligence, understand the feedback process and apply skills learned during the session, and learn how to effectively balance personal work and life areas.

Certificate includes a binder with daily agendas, pre-selected readings, and handouts.

ABOUT

The Advanced Women in Leadership 5-Week Certificate Program takes a deep dive into issues and discussions high level women in leadership often face in the workplace.

Outcomes of this Advanced Certificate include learning about tools that are critical during strategic planning and goal setting processes, learning how to manage your supervisors, designing and crafting your executive footprint, adopting new self-care tools designed for executives, and practicing effective conflict resolution skills.

Certificate includes a binder with daily agendas, pre-selected readings, and handouts.
